COMMUNITY FIRST DEVELOPMENT

WITH OUR PEOPLE, FOR OUR PEOPLE

IF YOU HAVE A VISION FOR YOUR COMMUNITY, WE CAN WORK WITH YOU TO ACHIEVE YOUR GOALS

OUR APPROACH

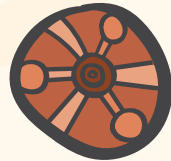

PRACTICAL SUPPORT

Our Community Development Officers work with you to map out your dream and the steps needed to get there. We connect you with our national network of skilled volunteers and identify and plan projects to support your community. With professional skillsets including business development, strategic planning, governance, IT and website development, communications, marketing, trades and more, our volunteers can work online or face-to-face to provide practical support where skills and resources are limited.

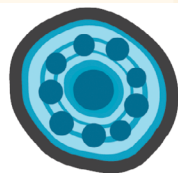

100% COMMUNITY DRIVEN

Your community is in control - we give support and guidance along the way, exploring and designing ways to achieve your goals. We work at community pace, respecting and honouring community decisions and local knowledge. Your community decides what skills are needed, shapes the project design and has the final say on volunteer selection.

BY INVITATION ONLY

You invite us to work with you! We only work with communities, organisations and individuals who want us there. We pride ourselves on developing strong relationships. Once invited, our team will take the time to get to know your community - your strengths, challenges and hopes for the future.

PROVEN IMPACT

We have over twenty years of knowledge and experience working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and with that, so many success stories. Our Community Development Officers work with you to develop a monitoring plan for your project, supporting the progress of your activities to ensure things stay on track. We evaluate every project and, with permission, we share community success stories, case studies and research.
